Children's Travel Book

Hard cover, 210 x 225 mm, 96 pp
Non-Fiction Children & Young Adults (ages 4-9)

A travelguide where the kids are your guides

Children's Travel Book is full of children's own tips and tricks for a journey and experiences of different destinations. There are island hopping in Greece, hiking in the Alps and celebrating Christmas with a barefoot Santa Claus in Thailand. Charming illustrations are mixed with children's own holiday snapshots in a playful way.

In addition, the children tip you off on how to pack to make room for all the exciting things found on the trip.

Children's Travel Book is an inspiring and humorous book about travelling from the perspective of the child. You will learn loads of things you've never thought of, drift off and long for your own journey ...

To top it all, at the end of the book you can fill in your own destinations!

Do the party yourself!

Hard cover, 195 x 225 mm, 120 pp
Non-Fiction Children & Young Adults (ages 8-12)

This is not an ordinary cookbook: it's a book about pottering with food!

The queen of food styling, Anna Lycke, demonstrates how you can throw great parties the year round all by yourself! Grown-ups are not needed!

Invite your friends to a film-party, arrange your own Halloween party or treat Granny to an unusual cake feast. Each party theme includes recipes, trimmings and decorations at different skills levels. Choose whichever suits you best, the easiest and quickest, or the little more inventive.

In addition, you get expert help in video clips linked to the book, which you will find with the help of the QR codes. Step by step, Anna shows, in the clips, how to make the party all by yourself!

Suleman and the strange day

Hard cover, 195 x 265 mm, 40 pp
Fiction Children (ages 3-6)

A story on fear, prejudice and unexpected friendship

Suleman is angry. It's raining cats and dogs and all the neighbours are running around outside. They are annoying. And most annoying of all is the mailman. Why is he even here? He never brings anything for Suleman anyway.

But then something strange happens.

The mailman actually puts a letter in Suleman's letterbox. It has to be a mistake! But the letter is indeed for him. And before Suleman knows how, he's on his way to a party nextdoor and the strange day becomes weirder and weirder ...

Suleman and the strange day is a charming book about the fact that what you first believe, is usually not true ...

Better than the best book in the world

Hard cover, 220 x 220 mm, 32 pp
Fiction Children (ages 3-6)
Possibilities for co-editions in spring 2017

An irresistible book on the magic of storytelling

It's time for bed, but Pumpkin does not want to sleep. And she doesn't want her dad to read another book. She wants him to make something up himself. And so this great story begins ...

The best book in the world is a playful book on the importance of fantasy and the power of storytelling. All in a sparkling rhyme that will make you smile.

*– And so the story ends, yep, that was it! said dad.
What did you think, was it ok, or was it really bad?
Tomorrow night I promise that I'll read a book instead.
That's when Pumpkin turned the lights off, closed her eyes and said ...
– I'm going to fall asleep now, and dream that I'm that girl.
Your story was much better ... Than the best book in the world.*

- for curious and brave kids

"What's that?" Probably the most frequently asked question by children. And probably the most important one.

"Speja" is a Swedish word that has a lot of meanings: to observe, to view, to notice, to watch ... Which is exactly what kids naturally do when they learn something new.

It also takes a lot of courage to learn new things and think further ahead. That's why Speja publish books for curious and brave kids.

Speja can also mean to spy. Perhaps from a secret hidingplace ... Reading is both fun and exiting when you get to learn new things. And if you have got your own book to sneak away with, it can be magic!
